Year 12 English Course Overview

Course Aims

The Year 12 English course aims to develop students' understanding of the English language and literature, and to provide them with the skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in their studies and in the workplace.

The course is designed to be challenging and engaging, and to provide students with a range of opportunities to develop their skills and knowledge. The course is divided into three main areas: English Language, English Literature, and English Communication.

English Language focuses on the study of the English language, including its history, structure, and use. Students will explore the relationship between language and culture, and will develop their skills in writing, speaking, and listening.

English Literature focuses on the study of English literature, including the works of Shakespeare, Dickens, and Austen. Students will explore the themes and characters of these works, and will develop their skills in analysis and evaluation.

English Communication focuses on the development of students' communication skills, including writing, speaking, and listening. Students will learn how to communicate effectively in a range of contexts, and will develop their skills in research and presentation.

The Year 12 English course is a challenging and rewarding experience, and will provide students with the skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in their studies and in the workplace. # Year 12 English Curriculum

Year 12 English Curriculum
The English curriculum for Year 12 is designed to build on the skills and knowledge developed in Years 10 and 11. It focuses on the study of literature, drama, and creative writing, with a strong emphasis on critical analysis and independent research.

Textual Studies

Textual Studies involves the study of a range of texts, including literature, drama, and non-fiction. The focus is on understanding the context, structure, and language of these texts, and how they relate to the wider world. Key texts include Shakespeare's Macbeth, Dickens' Great Expectations, and contemporary fiction.

Students will explore the themes and characters of these texts, and how they are presented through language and form. They will also be encouraged to make connections between the texts and their own lives, and to develop their own critical perspectives on the material.

Creative Writing

- Creative writing is a key component of the Year 12 English curriculum. Students will be encouraged to develop their own writing skills, and to experiment with different genres and styles.
- This includes writing for a range of purposes, including personal reflection, creative storytelling, and persuasive writing.
- Students will be encouraged to develop their own voice, and to use language effectively to convey their ideas and emotions.
- They will also be encouraged to edit and revise their work, and to seek feedback from their peers and teachers.

Language

- The Language component of the Year 12 English curriculum focuses on the study of language in its various forms and contexts.
- This includes the study of grammar, punctuation, and spelling, as well as the study of language in different genres and contexts.
- Students will be encouraged to develop their understanding of how language is used to create meaning and to persuade others.
- They will also be encouraged to use language effectively in their own writing and speaking.

Research and Critical Thinking

- Research and critical thinking are essential skills for success in the Year 12 English curriculum.
- Students will be encouraged to develop their research skills, and to use a range of sources to gather information and evidence.
- They will also be encouraged to think critically about the information they find, and to evaluate the reliability and validity of different sources.

Independent Learning

- Independent learning is a key component of the Year 12 English curriculum. Students will be encouraged to take responsibility for their own learning, and to develop their own study habits and strategies.
- This includes setting goals, managing time effectively, and seeking help when needed.
- Students will also be encouraged to work independently on their writing and research projects, and to present their findings and conclusions in a clear and convincing way.
